MADRIZ IN TRAP, SAYS CASTRILLO

Insurgent Troops Closing In Upon Nicaraguan Capital.

According to advices received today by Dr. Salvador Castrillo, representative in Washington of the provisional government of Nicaragua, President Madriz of the regular government is practically isolated, from a military standpoint, at Managua and a large body of insurgent troops is in readiness to besiege him and

According to Dr. Castrillo this situation has been effected through clever maneuvering by President Estrada of the insurgents and his three leading generals-Chamorro, Mena, and Matuly. Dr. Castrillo says that Estrada, who is now at Bluefields, is making preparations to join General Chamorro who is just on the outskirts of Managua with a command of about 8,000 men and that as soon as Estrada arrives the move ment upon the city will begin.

Says Madriz Was Outwitted.

From what has been cabled me, protection in case an advance such as is planned by our forces is made. By exercising a bit of finesse, Estrada and his military advisers have managed to get a large proportion of Madriz's army to Matagalpa, located eighty miles from Managua; Acopayapa situated 120 miles from Managua, and other towns at inconvenient distances, and from which Madriz cannot summon his forces on short notice.

"Madriz is hot-tempered, and quick to start from the will surely be at our mercy.

Zelaya and Madriz Compared.

"It is becoming more and more evident every day that Madriz is not the equal of Zelaya either as a diplomatist or a military strategist," continued Dr. Castrillo, "The campaign thus far against Madriz has proven that he will be easier to conquer than Zelaya. Zelaya as a diplomat while Madriz rules and the next feed days."

"Madriz is hot-tempered, and quick to act, and is therefore more easily to be trapped. Likewise he is cruel and will resort to any means to gain an end, It was an unfortunate event for the people of Nicaragua to have Madriz succeed to the Presidency.

"However," concluded Dr. Castrillo, "with a man of the type of Madriz at the head of the government at Managua against Madriz has proven that he will be easier to conquer than Zelaya. Zelaya as a diplomat while Madriz rules and the head of the government at Managua the situation is more encouraging to our feroes. We can trap him and we will. It think there will be important develops the rapped. Likewise he is true and will resort to any means to gain an end. It was an unfortunate event for the people of Nicaragua to have Madriz at man of the type of Madriz at the head of the government at Managua.

"Tough pupil (assuming a pupil (a

"On the other hand," continued Dr. Castrillo, "Chamerro, with about 3,000 men, is within striking distance of Managua, and only awaits the coming

Futile Warning Sounded By Daughter As He Boards Liner for Old World.

NEW YORK, Feb. 17 .- J. Pierpont Morgan, who sailed yesterday for Europe, took with him the reputation of being one of the most unwilling victims the news photographers ever set upon. Herbert L. Satterlee, Mr. Morgan's son-in-law, was at the pier when the banker arrived in his automobile. Mr. and Mrs. Pierpont Morgan, jr., and their little daughter, Miss Mabel, were with

When Mr. Morgan jumped out and saw walking stick to shield his features. The sharpshooters backstepped. As he was walking up the gangplank a photographer aimed his camera when Mr. Morgan wasn't looking. Miss Mabel plucked at his sleeve. "Look, grandpa, look," she exclaimed. Mr. Morgan saw that the camera scout had been successul and laughed.

Mr. Morgan stood on the promenade deck apart from every one else and waved good-by to relatives. He sailed alone save for his valet.
"Did my father tell you anything about his plans?" asked young Mr. Morgan.
